

NCATP 2025 AT Expo – Assistive Technology in Action

Advancing Accessibility and Independence

Details

The North Carolina Assistive Technology Program successfully hosted the 2025 AT Expo on October 2, 2025, at the McKimmon Center in Raleigh, NC.

Introduction

The Expo showcased a wide range of assistive technology solutions through 45 exhibitors, including state agencies and technology vendors, along with four hybrid educational sessions and a Maker's Room featuring five exhibitors focused on do-it-yourself access solutions.

Designed with accessibility and inclusion at its core, the event offered ASL interpretation, Spanish translation, audio descriptions, CART services, and reserved seating for in-person participants.

The Expo drew strong engagement, welcoming 659 in-person attendees and 117 virtual participants.

Highlights

- 45 exhibitors including state agencies and assistive technology vendors
- Wide variety of assistive technology solutions showcased
- 4 hybrid educational sessions
- Maker's Room with 5 exhibitors sharing DIY access and information

PreConference

NCATP hosted a Pre-Conference the day before the Expo, featuring guest speakers Teepa Snow and Therese Willkomm. The pre-conference attracted more than 75 attendees, further strengthening the event's impact and reinforcing NCATP's commitment to advancing accessibility, innovation, and independence through assistive technology.

Impact

- 659 in-person attendees
- 117 virtual attendees

EMPOWERING ACCESS, INNOVATION, AND INDEPENDENCE THROUGH
ASSISTIVE TECHNOLOGY.

